

Unless the Lord builds a house, the work of the builder is use less. Unless the Lord protects a city, guarding it with sentries will do no good. It is useless for you to work so hard from early in the morning until late at night, anxiously working for food to eat; for God gives rest to His loved ones. Psalm 127:1-2 (NLT)

Trinkets: That Trunk in the Corner of the Attic

October is almost over and I'm finally squeezing in enough time to write an edition of APK's Attic. Since the last edition, I've been extremely busy and have looked forward to sharing the events with you in this edition. However, this will be an abbreviated edition, as another will come out in just a few weeks.

Probably the biggest news occurred on Friday. Most of you know the endless problems I have had with my truck over the past several months. Last week, the same problem occurred again. The shop spent a week working on it. However, it still wasn't working quite right.

As a result, earlier today I traded the truck in for an immaculate 94 Mazda 626 ES with 17,000 miles (yes, those miles are correct). This purchase will tighten my budget even further, but I have worked out a monthly budget based on my recent level of financial support. I am relying on your consistency and special gifts now more than ever.

Heartwork: Pastoral Internship Responsibilities

THE INTERNS WILL BE PREACHING at Lakeview services in the near future. I am the first one up:

Nov 11	6:15pm	Andrew P Kulp
Nov 25	9:20am	Judson Blackstock
Nov 25	11:00am	Eric Ellis
Nov 25	6:15pm	Randy Presley
TBA	TBA	Brian Payne

My limited preaching experience is the one concern I have for my ministry. As the Lakeview program winds down, I am praying for experience through outside preaching engagements in the spring.

I have a wonderful opportunity to spend time with friends, both old and new, while I continue to serve under Cliff Knight in the College department.

Gone Mental: Seminary Course Work

I have one paper remaining for Church History I, and we have already begun Church History II. These classes are the most difficult I have had in seminary (including Greek). I have decided that much of the difficulty is due to the concentrated format with which we are taking the class.

Hebrew has gone surprisingly well. It helps to have one of the greatest Hebrew scholars of the Christian faith as your teacher. Dr. Walker has been a big help by teaching us key information to help us understand the language and make the Hebrew study materials useful. One more week and Hebrew will be done.

Bro Al's Pastoral Ministry class has been extremely helpful . . . not to mention quite interesting, as he shares many stories of his experiences over the years. I also had the opportunity to interview a new pastor in the Auburn/Opelika area, and found out that God is doing some amazing things in this pastor's church as it has almost doubled in attendance over the six months he has been pastor.

Ephesians 1:16: Thanksgiving and Prayer

Thank you:

Financial Supporters—consistency.

Prayers:

Tight budget with car payment. Diligence in studies. Planning for the future. Relationships (both myself and some friends). "Hobby."

Et Moi: Personal Comments

Well, I'm out of space for this mini-edition. Just one quick last word: mark your calendar!

May 17 - Graduation in Louisville, KY

May 19 - Ordination at Lakeview, 6:15pm.

Looking Ahead,

Andrew P. Kulp
